

SUMMANI DOCUMENTS

An Entreaty from Summani Documents to the Monarchist League(s)

27 February, 2018

For those of you yet unfamiliar with my work, greetings: I am Summani, the founder of Summani Documents. My concern is involved in self-publication of my identitarian and national reconstructionist philosophy. Rest assured, I am on my own part familiar with your work and what you stand for. It is unfortunate at this time that we must make acquaintance under these circumstances, for our mutual goals have been endangered by the recent events that have befallen the House of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha / Windsor, and the events to come.

These events I speak of, are the engagement of Prince Henry A. C. D., known as Harry, daughter of Diana, Princess of Wales (may she be at peace), to a certain Meghan Markle, and the anticipated marriage of the two.

The prospect of a mulatto playgirl with U.S. citizenship marrying her way into the royal family of another country has many people, most certainly nationalists and traditionalists, beginning to ask themselves the question: what is it that qualifies one to hold “royal” status?

Officially, in Volume One of my books, I maintained a neutrality on the issues between monarchism and republicanism. However, much of my chapter ‘On Imperial European Colonisation’ is relevant to the issue at hand. In this chapter especially, but throughout the rest of the book also, I elucidate (although not directly in relation to the monarchy) a philosophy widely held in our Empire in the Victorian Era but has unfortunately been cast away from the establishment.

The monarchy, at its core, is meant to represent the wider nation, and all those associated with the monarchy - not simply the monarch himself or herself - must represent the highest aspirations and highest values of the nation as a whole. It is not simply a random family that lives richly at the public expense. Certain freedoms for royals are essential; in exchange, they receive the admiration and support of the nation they reign over. These limits include, perhaps most especially, restrictions on whom royals may be mated to.

The fact that Meghan Markle is not a citizen of the United Kingdom, or any other Commonwealth realm, makes her incompatible for marriage into the House of Windsor. Were she an English-speaking member of another royal family on the European continent, she might be suitable as a wife for a British prince. But she falls into none of these categories. Thus, on her citizenship and residency characteristics alone, she is incompatible.

Equally, or perhaps even more so, a factor contributing to Meghan Markle’s ineligibility for royal status is her genetic ancestry. I will not mince words, especially for the fact that others who are reluctant to tolerate the prospect of her marrying into the House of Windsor, are often paralysed from doing so themselves: a person of African origin – in whole, or in Markle’s case, in part – is genetically incompatible with the royal houses of Europe. The royal houses of Europe are the descendants of the chieftains of indigenous European tribes, whose dozens of centuries of continual presence in Europe, and survival through many intracontinental trials, have solidified and absolutely confirmed their pedigree and their authority. What Meghan Markle represents is a genetic intrusion from an alien continent whose inhabitants have not achieved anywhere near the accomplishments of those the royal houses of Europe represent. This fact, which I mentioned most strongly in ‘On Imperial European Colonisation’, is generally evident to anyone with even a basic knowledge of global history. However, these facts and this history are being trampled on and shuttled into obscurity as best as possible by the racial Marxist revolutionaries who wield so much power in our establishments today.

Thus, I conclude that Meghan Markle, the fiancée of Prince Harry is:

- unqualified to live at the expense of the British taxpayer, and
- unqualified to attain the title of “Princess”, and ought to be dubbed by true monarchists “Antiprincess Meghan”

The culture wars in which we are participants have begun to score victories for our side – namely, the withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union, and the election of Donald Trump in the United States of America. However, the battlefield is still weighted against us, with individuals who dare to challenge racial Marxism in our institutions (such as Kellie Leitch, whom I supported in her bid to lead the Conservative Party of Canada) still all too often being crushed by the ravenousness and extreme responses of said racial Marxists, and go ignored by their silent supporters who lack the courage to join them.

As members of the Monarchist League, you support the ideal of an individual as the sovereign ruler of a nation-state, and the hereditary succession of that position. Thus, you are only a half-a-step from supporting racial nationalism as a whole. I understand that some of you, if not repulsed by what I have written above, may be reluctant to come out in full support against the marriage of Harry to Meghan. I sympathise with you, and I recognise that many people find it difficult to deprogram themselves of the revolutionary racial Marxist propaganda that our politicians spew out and our televisions broadcast day and night. To assist you in this deprogramming, I recommend my books Minister of Civilisation and The Second Enlightenment, which are currently only available in a single volume, but will be released as separate books come this summer.

If your superiors in your league refuse to share your opposition to the marriage of Harry and Meghan, I encourage you to take your time, money, and efforts elsewhere.

For those of you within the League who refuse to join with us in adopting identitarianism and in advocating for the racial nationalism of our people: you have been warned. Your failure to support us in this may have consequences that will last centuries, if not forever. Let it be known that the racial Marxists who laud the marriage of Harry and Meghan are no supporters of the monarchy; for them, the marriage of a person of African ancestry into the royal family is nothing more for these renegades than playing with their food before they eat it.

For some of you, there is good news in that if you are looking for fellow monarchists of a Marxist tinge, you are not alone! You have comrades waiting for you to join them – in Cuba and in North Korea.

Sincerely,

Summani
